

PRESS RELEASE

Shark Tank Mogul Imparts Business Advice to PCTI Students

Wayne, NJ – FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – Students of Passaic County Technical Institute’s (PCTI) School of Business were privy to an educational treat when they video conferenced with Barbara Corcoran of Shark Tank fame. Conversation topics ranged from finding the motivation to become successful, to starting a business when young and taking chances. Barbara also touched upon the valuable experience of failing and how to make the most out of every single opportunity.

Students took turns asking questions of the Shark Tank Real Estate Mogul. The experience was invaluable and taught all involved about the ins and outs of the business world.

Photo Caption: Students of PCTI’s School of Business learn much about the wonderful world of business through their video conference with Barbara Corcoran