PCTI Advisory Board Mentors Logistics Students

Wayne, NJ – FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – Passaic County Technical Institute’s (PCTI) School of Business Careers’ Logistics Program opened the floor to its Advisory Board members during student presentations on January 8th. Committee members critiqued presentations that underscored the importance of “Freight Loading Methods,” a curriculum that was developed with the help of FedEx. The event gave students a unique opportunity to discuss the program with business professionals and to receive firsthand advice from those in the industry. Those in attendance included Thomas Zappia (Stratus Informatix LLC), Lizette Munoz (FedEx), Brian Hughes (Fed Ex), Mike Ryan (FedEx), Ayaz Aslam (Fedex), Gail Okun (Berkley College), Carol Covino (Berkley College), Tom Bacola (NJ DOE), and Gary Diggs (NJ DOE). The engaging experience shed light upon the significance of receiving an education that echoes real-world career experience while in high school.
